ISSUE 17: JUNE 7th, 2018

From the Principal

Monday 11th June Public Holiday is a STUDENT FREE DAY

Cross Cluster Professional Learning

On Tuesday afternoon, the four small schools in our cluster attended an information session about the Respectful Relationships program. Being a new program for schools, there were a few questions we had in terms of how it could be implemented and approached. Our presenter was able to provide answers and further information about the program. At Stanhope, we have been part of this program since its inception and are in the process of planning a special day to introduce this program to our school community.

CFA

Tuesday also saw all of our staff receive instruction in the use of fire extinguishers. Thank you to Gerard, who provided the expert instruction needed. It was important to know how to tell if the extinguisher is full and fit for use and how long the extinguisher can be expected to operate for, once it is in operation.

Student Voice

Next Tuesday evening, our student leaders will accept sponsorship funds from the Kyabram Club who generously sponsor many educational organisations, each year in the local area. Our student leaders will speak about how previous funds have been used and our plans for this year's sponsorship.

Incursions and Excursions

Next week all students will participate in the Life Education program, which will be visiting our school. While this program is held at school, it is a user pays program and as such, a permission form and payment details are attached to this newsletter. Please return by Tuesday 12th June (straight after the long weekend). Negotiations have meant a hugely discounted fee for this program

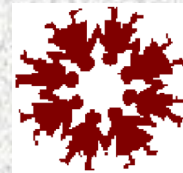

The following week, we have a whole school excursion to the Ky Fauna Park, to consolidate and build on students' understanding of habitats and biodiversity. A permission form is attached with details of what students need and the cost of the excursion. Parents are welcome to join the P-2 students after 10.30am for a snack and the Discovery Trail walk, followed by lunch. Families of 3- 6 students are welcome from 11.30 onwards, after their classroom session at the park. Please be aware that as a school excursion, teachers are responsible for all students and therefore parents need to follow the teachers' instructions.

Ten privacy tips for parents and carers

10. Emphasise help is always available

Make sure your children know that they can ask for help if they have a problem online, whether from you, from their school or from government services. Reassure your children that you're there to support them, you're there to listen to things that may have arisen, and that you're not going to automatically disconnect them from their online world if a problem arises.

If your children experience cyberbullying, the Office of the eSafety Commissioner (OeSC) may be able to help. Most social media sites also have their own complaints systems. The OeSC also has information on a range of popular games, apps and social networking sites including instructional advice on how to activate privacy settings.

The Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) can also help you if you have a complaint about how an entity covered by the Privacy Act 1988 has handled your children's personal information.

If you are concerned that your children's identity information may have been compromised, iDcare the national identity support service can provide advice and support.

Don't forget...

Your online behaviour affects your children's privacy too. The information you share about your children, especially on social media, contributes to their digital footprint. Remember that once you share information, it can be used in ways you did not expect and cannot control.

Before you share any information about your children, ask yourself: 'Have I ensured my children's privacy is protected?'
